

DIRTY HANDS

We produce too much and we throw away tons
we work for shadow-dwelling shareholders who make sums we can't even dream of we rarely do what we love, spend time to spend money hit snooze, springing to life to spend hours in traffic, sleepless coffee addict and work, what a waste to lose years living buried in fear
we're stressed, it's a mess and we can't get help financial or psychological It's an improbable existence at best we gotta follow through, work collectively
Forget the debt we've accrued, it's officially skewed
And time the government had a judicial review
They say we owe CEOs, how 'bout IOUs or FUs?
Eschew punks like Trump and all their right-wing views
Everyone of us is disabused time to fight the ruse, the rules are misused
I officially accuse the news of trying to confuse so let's light the fuse!

Who is the dirty man who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.
Who is the dirty jerk who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.

It's a dirty game, is any man worthy of fame?
Let alone being worthy of that man's own name or his title, what's a head of department without a heart? it's just a brain,
When will we learn?
We earn less and less, we pay interest
but we get laid off or outsourced
Whenever their profits are lost
Who knows the real the cost of this system?
There all paid off, on the take, what will it take?
That all the victims and workers unite, unlikely, gotta be consumers who stop
Going to the company shops and hit 'em in the pockets.

Who is the dirty man who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.
Who is the dirty jerk who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.

It's our copper, our coltan, our cotton, our water
our tears, their slaughter, our sons, our daughters our love, our sweat, our blood, our debt
our ancestors who died
it's our culture, our pride

Who is the dirty man who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.
Who is the dirty jerk who got the dirty plan?
We do the dirty work but they got the dirty hands.
